

Instrument Repair Services

Welcome to my site. As a professional musician and music educator, I look forward to having the opportunity to help you with your woodwind and brass repairs, as well as other musical needs. Please call or e-mail me and we can discuss what can be done to return your woodwind and brass instruments to their best possible playing condition as quickly as possible.

I accept individual repairs and school accounts. Pickup and delivery service is available locally. Please call or e-mail for more information. Because I am an active teacher and performer, it is best to call about your repairs or leave your instruments with me during the summer.
